October 2020

Voters Edge

Voters Edge is a website that was established in 2016, replacing the League's Smartvoter. Two non-profits, the League of Women Voters California Education Fund and Maplight produce the site. They have teamed up to offer free campaign publicity to all candidates on the ballot in California via the website <http://www.votersedge.org>.

On the site, voters enter their street address and zip code and then click on "Find my ballot." What appears is the ballot they will see at the next election, the candidate races, and all ballot measures, state and local, that relate to their home address.

Voters Edge does not endorse any candidates (always the case with the League) nor does it offer any opinions on the ballot measures. The site is information - and education - oriented. Candidates may include their Facebook, website or other media sites for their candidacy. However, for Voters Edge they are to speak to their own goals, experience, etc.

I am coordinating the team that assists the state league in contacting candidates representing our area, from congressional candidates to water district candidates. Assisting me for the 2020 elections are Kris Rekdahl, Rita Champion and Theresa Riviera. Our team shares the list of candidates. Then we invite candidates to participate. It can be challenging as candidates are often busy.

Any information you find about a candidate on the Voter Edge site has been submitted by the candidate. If there is no information, the candidate has not yet replied. Maplight does update the top 10 donor information for candidates and ballot measures based on the FPPC filings made by campaigns. In late 2021, I will be asking if any members would like to join us in this activity. It has been very interesting work to do for the primaries and general elections.

No Way MEASURE A - LWV Opposes "Strong Mayor" Again

The Strong Mayor Committee is going strong. League members Charlene Jones, Norma Nelson, Heather Fargo and Wendy Hoyt are working on an effort to defeat Measure A. The campaign has an outreach committee, endorsement committee and fundraising committee. We are speaking whenever possible at neighborhood association meetings and community organizations. The timeline is short as ballots will be mailed on October fifth.

The No on A Committee website is www.NoWayMeasureA.com Donations are needed. The Mayor plans to spend more than one million dollars or "whatever it takes" to pass A. The Firefighters Union 522, on the NO committee, has reasonably priced lawn signs. If you can put up a yard sign or know someone in the city who can email advocacy@lwsacramento.org to request one. If you happen to own some commercial property in a visible location, we have access to large six-foot signs.

Major and minor political parties in Sacramento County (Democratic, Republican, Green and Libertarian in addition to many neighborhood associations and community groups) are opposed to Measure A. Measure A appears on the ballot as The Mayoral Accountability and Community Equity Act.

Brief Review of California Propositions, November 3rd General Election

There are 12 propositions on the ballot. Props 14-24 are initiatives placed on the ballot by the legislature or the people via signature gathering. Prop. 25 is a referendum (Ref). Propositions that are Constitutional Amendments (CoA) will change the California Constitution, statutes (Stat) will become laws.

Sources: LWVC 2020 Easy Voter Guide; Props to you, Californians: A preview of what's on your November ballot, CalMatters; LWVC Pros & Cons; Secretary of State Election Ballot measures. Vote with the League proposition recommendations, November 3, 2020

14-Bonds Stem Cells, (Stat) to continue funding stem cell and medical research first passed as Prop 71 in 2004. Initiative funded by Robert Klein, first Board chair of The California Initiative for Regenerative Medicine. Would allow state to sell $5.5 billion new bonds, includes $1.5 billion for Alzheimer's & Parkinson's. Opposed say the state should not spend this money when so many people are out of work. LWVC NEUTRAL

15- Split Roll: Taxes on Commercial Property (CoA) CTA, SEIU and Chan Zuckerberg support an increased tax on commercial property, e.g. businesses, shopping centers. Revision to Prop 13, 1976. Property taxes would be based on worth of property now, if worth more than $3 million, and would increase yearly based on purchase price. Residential homes not affected. Local governments would receive between $6.5 and 11.5 billion in additional taxes per year. Opposed say prices would increase on everything people buy. LWVC YES

16- End Ban on Affirmative Action (CoA) Sponsored by S. Weber (D) Assembly, response to Prop 209, 1996. It would allow schools and public agencies to take race, sex, ethnicity, color, and origin country into account for hiring, admissions, contract assigning, etc. Opposed say everyone should be treated equally. LWVC YES

17-Voting Rights for Parolees (CoA) by Kevin McCarty (D) Assembly, would amend Article II, Sec 2 ... (b) "An elector disqualified from voting while serving a state or federal prison term, as described in Section 4, shall have their right to vote restored upon the completion of their prison term." As of 2016 40,000, Californians were no longer in prison but were unable to vote, an estimated two-thirds being Latino or Black. Working people paying taxes and raising families deserve to have a voice in policy-making. Opposed say it allows violent criminals to vote before completing their parole and rehabilitation, and will add to pain and suffering of victims. LWVC YES

18-Voting Rights, 17-yearolds (CoA) by K. Mullin (D) San Mateo. Allow 17-year-old U.S. citizens to vote in primary and special elections if they will turn 18 by the subsequent general election. Once voting begins, it becomes a life-long habit; engage young early. Opposed say they are not adults; also they are subject to influence by teachers. LWVC YES

19-Property Tax Rules Changes (CoA) by K. Mullin (D) San Mateo. Expands property tax rules for special groups including people over 55, disabled or effected by natural disaster. Homeowners could keep lower tax basis for up to three moves within the state. Opposed say this tax increase was rejected in 2018 and the tax could hurt those who cannot afford to pay taxes on an inherited home. Exacerbates an inequitable tax system. LWVC NO

20-Criminal Penalties and Parole (Stat) Makes changes to the process by which people are charged with certain crimes and the process of granting them parole. Previous measures AB 109 (2011), Prop 47 (2014), Prop 57 (2016) were passed to increase reforms). Expands list of crimes classified as violent, creates list of criteria for the Board of Parole Hearings to use during parole consideration; requires collection of DNA from people even though the crime may be a misdemeanor. Opposed say: will roll back prison reforms, cost taxpayers millions, slashes mental health and rehab programs, etc. LWVC NO

21-Local Governments and Rent Control (Stat) Funded by AIDS Healthcare Foundation. Similar measure defeated in 2018. Allows local governments to establish rent control on residential properties over 15 years old AND rent increases of 15% over three years from previous tenant's rent above any increase allowed by local ordinances. Opposed say law will cause landlords to evict renters; will make housing less available and affordable. LWVC NEUTRAL

22-Rideshare & Delivery Drivers (Stat) Funded by Lyft, Uber & Doordash. Amends new state law to classify app-based rideshare and delivery drivers as independent contractors (not employees) and requires rideshare and delivery companies to adopt labor and wage policies unique to these drivers. Including minimum compensation, healthcare subsidy, medical expenses, rest policy and more. Opposed say companies do not want to pay drivers’ basic benefits, sick leave unemployment benefits, etc. LWVC takes no stand as the League has no Position on this issue.

23-Kidney Dialysis Clinics (Stat) Supported by SEIU-United Health Workers West. Attempted to pass Prop 8, 2018. Six hundred private, licensed dialysis clinics in CA would have to have a licensed physician at the clinic when patients are being treated, infections must be reported to the state health department, clinic must offer the same level of care regardless of method of payment. Opposed say would take doctors away from hospitals and emergency rooms; some dialysis clinics may close due to increased costs. Why should voters be deciding questions on medical staffing and record keeping? LWVC NEUTRAL

24-Consumer Privacy Laws (Stat) Strengthen California’s consumer privacy law. Funded by Alastair & Celine MacTaggart. In 2018, the California Consumer Privacy Act was passed, the strictest such law in the US. Prop 24 would increase financial penalties for violators and allow consumers to demand that personal information not be shared at all, not limiting its sale. Opposed say still gives tech companies too much power to use data. Consumers should not have to fill out and send forms to tech companies to have data protected. Initiative includes many impacts and nuances that are difficult for voters to discern. Onus is placed on the individuals to protect themselves. LWVC NO

25-Get Rid of Bail (Ref) funded by bail bond industry. In 2018, legislators passed a bill ending cash bail. The law gives judges the right to determine whether the arrestee should be kept behind bars, based on the risk they are deemed to pose to themselves or others. Cash bail both criminalizes poverty and reflects the systemic racism that plagues our criminal legal process. A yes vote would keep the state law that ended cash bail, a no vote would retain the original bail system. Opposed say releasing people from jail is unsafe for the community, new system discriminates against people of color and low income. LWVC YES

Measure A, City of Sacramento –Mayoral Accountability and Community Equity Act, aka Strong Mayor, Measure L that was defeated in 2014. Placed on ballot by the City Council at the Mayor’s request. Gives mayor power to propose a budget, no longer voting member on Council, gives mayor veto power, can sunset measure in 2030, Ethics Commission would become part of the City Charter, many changes to uplift communities of color and improve transparency; mayor could fire the city manager but council could overturn with a two-thirds vote, would open another seat on the council, two term limit for mayors, and more. Opposed by the LWVSC*, Sacramento CTA, SEIU Local 1021, Democratic Party Sacramento County, Sacramento Tenants Union, etc., as reported in The Sacramento Bee, 9/7/20, 4A.

“California hits record 21 million registered voters,” by Lara Korte, The Sacramento Bee, 9/10/20 5A. This is the highest rate of registration since the 1940 election. “Nearly two-thirds of the new registrations are millennials or Generation Y, born after 1996 ...”

Membership Orientation

The first-ever Member Orientation held by Zoom teleconference occurred on Saturday, September 19, 2020. Plans are being made to repeat this successful event quarterly. New members had an opportunity to "meet" board members, committee chairs, and other members. Even though we were not in person, the face-to-face experience was a valuable networking opportunity. Several committee chairs updated the team on the functions of their committees, providing short summaries of their current activities and their needs for additional volunteer help. League is most effective working in small teams of committed volunteers and the Zoom meet-up was an opportunity for members to make connections within the organization to increase our effectiveness. Twenty-one members participated.

My special thanks to those who attended and to Carol Enns and Roseanne Chamberlain for their expertise with technology.

The session was recorded and will be on the LWVSC website.

“Few Supreme Court Justices have left a legacy as ideologically coherent as Ruth Bader Ginsburg. The second of only four female justices to be sworn in, Ginsburg was always an ardent defender of women's rights and gender equality.”

“Ginsburg was appointed to the Supreme Court by President Bill Clinton in 1993.”

“Her work has been a driving force in advocating for reproductive rights, to - gender equality, and fourth amendment rights.”

Books, Articles

—The Politics Industry: How Political Innovation Can Break Partisan Gridlock and Save Our Democracy, 2020, by Katherine M. Gehl, author and business woman, and Michael E. Porter, author and Harvard business and economics professor.

“Our political system has become big business--and business is booming--yet solutions to big problems seem impossible. Behold, the political-industrial complex. Rampant lobbying and gerrymandering. Election spending rising exponentially with each cycle. The Democratic and Republican parties competing furiously against each other for advantage, while together--as a duopoly--having a lock on the entire industry.”

“... who is this system for? Citizens, of course.” “... as the political system has transformed into an industry, it has also become totally dysfunctional, incapable of delivering solutions to America's key economic and social challenges.” Some fixes suggested by reformers, e.g., term limits or revised campaign finance laws, have been proposed but never implemented.

“In The Politics Industry, leading political innovation activist Gehl and world-renowned business strategist Porter take a radically different approach. They ingeniously apply the tools of business analysis--and Porter's distinctive Five Forces framework--to show how the political system functions just as every other competitive industry does. Even more importantly, they argue that the political system can be changed, just as industries can be changed, by adopting a new and different strategy, a clear set of choices of things to do--and not do--in four key areas: the election process, the legislative "machinery," the role of money, and the opening up of competition. The authors focus only on those solutions that are powerful and capable of having a significant impact, as well as achievable within a short period.”

The Goodreads reviewer states: “The Politics Industry is an original and completely nonpartisan guide that will open any thinking citizen's eyes to the real dynamics and profound challenges of the American political system and provide powerful and practicable solutions for reshaping the system for the benefit of all.” Retrieved 8/24/2020 Goodreads C-Span interview 8/23/2020

—The Age of Surveillance Capitalism: The Fight for a Human Future at the New Frontier of Power 2020, by Shoshana Zuboff, author and Harvard professor. “...Shoshana Zuboff provides startling insights into the phenomenon that she has named surveillance capitalism.” “... a global architecture of behavior modification threatens human nature in the twenty-first century just as industrial capitalism disfigured the natural world in the twentieth.” The author discusses the consequences of surveillance capitalism as it leaves Silicon Valley and effects every economic sector. “Vast wealth and power are accumulated in ominous new ‘behavioral futures markets,’ where predictions about our behavior are bought and sold, and the production of goods and services is subordinated to a new “means of behavioral modification.”

“The threat has shifted from a totalitarian Big Brother state to a ubiquitous digital architecture: a ‘Big Other’ operating in the interests of surveillance capital. Here is the crucible of an unprecedented form of power marked by extreme concentrations of knowledge and free from democratic oversight. She claims that “... the threats to twenty-first century society [include]: a controlled “hive” of total connection that seduces with promises of total certainty for maximum profit -- at the expense of democracy, freedom, and our human future.” Amazon.com retrieved 9/9/2020

—“Environmental groups say Newsom’s water plan will worsen toxic threat in the Delta: Documents continue to reveal big and uncertain spending around Delta tunnel, Sites Reservoir,” by Scott Thomas Anderson, SN&R 9/2/2020 13-14. The Delta is experiencing the worst case of toxic algae blooms ever seen. Causes include: warming water a result of climate change, lack of cool water as more water is sent south, and agriculture discharges. According to B. Wells, Director CA Delta Chambers & Visitors Bureau: “If this gets any worse, the business impact would be huge. Boating is a three-quarter of a billion dollar industry in California ... a lot focused in the Delta.” B. Barrigan-Parrilla, Executive Director, Restore the Delta states: “The whole system is being managed for water exports rather than protection of the estuary.” “... the Department of Water Resources should be making Delta levee repairs and clean, safe water quality their top priorities.” Too much reliance is being placed on the Sites Reservoir in the west of the Sacramento Valley; conservationists say the “...location and design of the Sites will channel warm water chalked with naturally occurring heavy metals into the pristine Sacramento River and north Delta ...” page 14

—Why this group of Californians is especially vulnerable to wildfires, pandemics, By Kim Bojorquez, The Sacramento Bee (6A-7A) & Fresno Bee online, 9/8/2020. Michael Mendez, Assistant Professor, UC Irvine, et.al., issued a report exposing the impact on farmworkers, immigrants, Blacks, Latinos and Native Americans who are 50% more vulnerable to wildfires compared to those who live in other areas. Many times they are not notified or provided with translated materials.

—Recently released report by the Native American Rights Fund: Obstacles at Every Turn: Barriers to Political Participation Faced by Native American Voters, 6/4/2020 by Dr. James T. Tucker, et. al., provides detailed evidence of how Native people face obstacles at every turn in the electoral process: from registering to vote, to casting votes, to having their votes counted.

—“Police reform is not enough: The moral failure of incremental change,” by Mychal Denzel Smith, The Atlantic, 9/2020,14-17. The article is adapted from the author’s forthcoming book Stakes is High: Life After the American Dream. Smith emphatically declares that police need to be abolished. He discusses the poverty problem, homelessness, the political system and how we delude ourselves about placing faith in one person, i.e., a president and the idea of choosing the “correct” or “right” person to lead, and touches on American mythmaking and American exceptionalism. He states that “... he has grown past being impatient with injustice ...” “The police have consistently inflicted violence on the most marginalized people in society.” p.14. He admits that “Defund the police” gained some traction but seems to be turning into “another flash of progress.” He avers that there may be some progress here, stating: “Progress is wresting concessions from the behemoth of systematized oppression.” p.17

—“Federal report warns of financial havoc from climate change,” by Coral Davenport and Jeanna Smialek, NYT 9/8/20 online, also reported in The Sacramento Bee 9/10/2020 6B. Conclusion: “A world wracked by frequent and devastating shocks from climate change cannot sustain the fundamental conditions supporting our financial system.”

—“Buy the book: Lexipol says its policies keep police department out of trouble. Critics say they let violent cops off the hook.” by Madison Pauly, Mother Jones, September-October 2020, 22-23. Lexipol was started in 2003 by two former cops and one other person. Many of Lexipol’s policies run counter to the National Consensus Policy on Use of Force. Eleven major law enforcement groups collaborated on writing the Policy.

Most of the articles in the September/October issue of Mother Jones discuss policing.

All Hell Breaking Loose: The Pentagon's Perspective on Climate Change

Journalist Michael Klare notes that military preparedness includes ignoring President Trump's edicts about pretending climate change is not happening. "Senior officials at the DOD and the American intelligence community have peered into the future and seen this world. They have mapped out its basic parameters and calculated its likely effects. And their prognosis is grim: unless we act now to halt planetary warming and fortify our society against those climate effects that are already unavoidable, the American military will lose its capacity to defend the nation from multiple foreign perils, while the homeland itself will be ravaged by storms, floods, droughts, fires, and epidemics."
