

A Community Conversation on

Transgender Equality

Sunday, October 14 at 7:00pm

Temple Beth Elohim, 10 Bethel Rd, Wellesley

Join us in a thought-provoking community conversation about the challenges of living in Massachusetts as a transgender person, viewed from several different perspectives. What are the trans rights currently in place? What would be the threat to trans rights if the current law is not upheld by a Yes vote for Question 3 on the November 6th ballot?

Speakers:

Rabbi Sharon Clevenger: Middle School Rabbi at The Rashi School, former Rabbi at TBE

CeCe Hansen: a long time Wellesley resident, transgender woman, and parent of two sons

Sawyer Bethel: Executive Director, OUT MetroWest

Rabbi Mike Moskowitz: a deeply traditional and radically progressive advocate for trans rights, and a vocal ally for LGBT inclusivity

Mimi Micner: Advocacy and Campaign Specialist, Keshet

Rev. Dr. Kelly Murphy Mason: Sr. Minister, Unitarian Universalist Society of Wellesley Hills

Panel moderated by Michelle Chalmers, President, World of Wellesley

A question and answer period will follow speakers' remarks.

Event Sponsors:

TBE Congregants for Transgender Equity, Wellesley Village Church - Congregational, Unitarian Universalist Society of Wellesley Hills, League of Women Voters of Wellesley, World of Wellesley, OUT MetroWest, Keshet, Freedom For All Massachusetts

This event is free and all are welcome. Doors open at 6:30 for refreshments.

Program begins at 7pm.

More information and to RSVP: <https://tbewellesley.org/TransgenderEquity>