

We have a HOUSING CRISIS
in Alameda County.

Affordable housing is getting harder and harder to find. It's too expensive and out of reach for many seniors, veterans, people with disabilities, low-income families and others. Many working families spend more than half of their income on housing.

Alameda County elected officials, policy makers and community members have collaborated to create Measure A1, an AFFORDABLE HOUSING BOND for the November ballot.

Measure A1 is proudly endorsed by the League of Women Voters of the Bay Area.

We are grateful for their support.

Other strong supporters include Habitat for Humanity, The Sierra Club, East Bay Housing Organizations, and the Non-Profit Housing Association of Northern California

Paid for by Yes on A1– Affordable Housing 2016, major funding by Eden Housing, MidPen Housing, PO Box 1293, Alameda, CA 94501. FPPC #1385657