Freedom of the Press: A Cornerstone of Democracy

Presented by the League of Women Voters of Massachusetts

LWVMA is pleased to announce the next program in the Democracy in Everyday Life Series: “Freedom of the Press: A Cornerstone of Democracy.” The focus of this conversation is the meaning of the First Amendment and whether the Free Press is really free.

The program was privately recorded at NewTV in Newton, MA, and will premiere on YouTube, HERE, starting Friday, June 5 at 6:30 EST.

Viewers are encouraged to use this Study Guide as they watch the program.

Coffee with Senator Cindy Creem and Representative Alice Peisch

On June 5, our League hosted a coffee gathering with State Senator Cindy Creem and State Representative Alice Peisch.

Senator Creem and Representative Peisch provided valuable insight into how the legislative process works and offered practical guidance on the most effective ways to advocate for issues, emphasizing the importance of engaging legislators on behalf of their constituents.

The discussion covered a wide range of topics, including Mass Bay housing plans, domestic violence legislation, and efforts to safeguard election integrity.

Many thanks to Diane Hemond for graciously hosting this informative and engaging conversation.

Coming Up
