

Cultivating Civic Conversations

About Race

September 8 - November 17, 2021

10 am & 4 pm (Pacific)

Register now for Cultivating Civic Conversations About Race groups. We will read Ijeoma Oluo's bestselling book, So You Want to Talk About Race, as anchor for our discussions.

Each week we layer in content from a wide variety of sources--podcasts, YouTube, TED Talks, and recent conferences. This content opens up the topic of race, provides historical context, and introduces new voices.

During the hour-long Zoom sessions we listen to each and reflect on what we have read and listened to in large and two-person groups. To extend and expand our conversations, all participants have access to the secure Sutra Space discussion platform.
