Mission Statement: The League of Women Voters is a diversified, nonpartisan political group of women and men, influencing public policy through education and advocacy and encouraging informed and active participation in government.
Notes from the 2018 LWVUS Convention

Four of our members pictured here (Hana Itani, Eleanor Yick, Gail Nishimura and Barbara Lea) attended the LWVUS Convention held in Chicago from June 28 – July 1. In spite of the extremely hot and humid weather, all four found convention attendance worthwhile and informative. Each day is divided into what’s called a “plenary session” which is whole group attendance where program decisions are made. Smaller issue-focused caucuses take place before the plenary starting at 7:30 a.m. and after dinner at 8:30 p.m.

The theme of the convention was Creating a More Perfect Democracy through League membership and advocacy. Each day featured at least one speaker highlighting her/his work toward women’s empowerment, local citizens’ and good government practices, protecting voting rights, gerrymandering/redistricting, use of technology in registration and voting, and/or addressing Diversity, Equity and Inclusion (DEI). The League is committed to promoting DEI to better ensure its long term viability as a respected, effective, and inclusive organization as it moves into its second century.

Chris Carson, re-elected LWVUS president, set the stage for the League’s work in reviewing the Transformation Journey updated by LWVUS in 2018. Four main areas of focus emerged from this comprehensive review of the organization that will be undertaken in conjunction with the Making Democracy Work Campaign:

I Advancing a Clear Strategic Focus
II Building a More Inclusive Culture
III Building a Healthier League Network
IV Increasing Capacity at All Levels

All the state Leagues voted overwhelmingly to support these goals in addition to their own state League’s and local League’s goals. If you recall, we voted at our Program Planning meeting to support LWVC’s goals as well as the four we set: Local Election Finance Study/Money in Politics, Voter Services, Communication and Natural Resources.

Many speakers focused on the League’s need to be more diverse, more equitable and more inclusive (DEI). Some interesting definitions of those terms were put forth with one being: Diversity being the presence of differences; Equity mindedness being to make America just; and Inclusion being the acknowledgement of the presence of differences. Think about these definitions and see if they resonate with you.

The most interesting part of the convention for me is always the adoption of the recommended program (which has emerged from the submitted Program Planning recommendations from each League) and the process of moving some non-recommended programs for consideration. This is where you see democracy in action—many speakers standing at the pros and cons in microphones advocating their positions. Many non-recommended programs were put up for consideration but only three emerged for full discussion and a vote: Abolishment of the Electoral College (which LWVUS already has a position on), National Popular Vote Interstate Compact (NPVIC), and Support for the NRA Amendment. The NRA Amendment was approved by acclamation and the NPVIC was also approved by a 2/3 vote.

For your information, a separate article is included with more details about the exciting NPVIC. (Submitted by Eleanor Yick)

In order to address the work involved in the Making Democracy Work Campaign and the Transformation Journey, healthy resources are needed—both volunteer and financial. Tom Wells, Budget Committee Chair, presented the proposed 2018 – 2020 LWVUS budget. The news is good regarding National’s operating and education fund budgets! Unlike two years ago when a deficit was projected, LWVUS’ financial health is substantial. Individual contributions are at a record high, erasing any deficit and leaving National with a strong reserve post 2020. Other sources of revenue included large planned gifts, in-kind advertising and legal services, and convention attendance having hit an all-time high. The largest anticipated expenses are direct marketing, advertising and legal services, and funding for the League’s transformation to meet strategic goals on mission impact, relevance, and visibility. The budget was formulated under the assumption that the PMP rate will not increase (yay!), no new studies will be commissioned in 2018 – 2020, and National can leverage the 100th Anniversary to fund the organization. With such a strong financial outlook, the budget was voted for approval by the majority. Submitted by Gail Nishimura

Important Issues at the 2018 League Convention

It seemed to me that this National LWV Convention focused on more relevant, important issues with a more practical approach than previous ones I have attended—or maybe I am just more concerned about our nation than I was in the past. There were nearly 1,000 attendees, with about 150 from California—spending a lot of time in the really beautiful old Hilton Ballroom.

Diversity, Equity, & Inclusion. Many of the speakers were from different racial backgrounds, and one of the best was Rosie Rios, the 43rd Treasurer of the United States, a beautiful young Latina who led the efforts to place a woman’s portrait on the front of U.S. currency and is working to get a statue of a real woman in each of our largest National Parks. One afternoon all the delegates spent three hours in smaller groups on very practical interactive training designed to discuss the importance of self-awareness, intention and impact when attempting to increase DEI at the national, state and local levels of the League.

Gun Safety. The title of this 7:30A.M. session was Gun Violence Prevention in America: Arm Yourself with Facts, not Fiction. In the United States we now have one intentional shooting a week on school grounds! The speakers emphasized that the problem was not a mental health issue but easy access to guns. We have got to get a ban on AR-14 assault rifles with a big magazine, which are designed to kill people.

Health Care. An excellent speaker, a woman physician, talked about erosion on the progress we had made for affordable care on the national level and emphasized that LWVUS plans to provide Leagues with tools to help them continue fighting for health care for all.

The Equal Rights Amendment. It was first introduced to Congress in 1923. The current proposal was passed in 1972. Aren’t we a patient group, and wouldn’t it be wonderful if we could get the ERA passed before our 100th Anniversary in 2020? One more state needs to vote for the amendment; and these are the states who have not done so yet: Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, Missouri, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Utah, and Virginia. Submitted by Barbara Lea

The Convention kicked off with A Conversation on Redistricting where attendees heard from Ruth Greenwood and Nick Stephanopoulos. Greenwood served on the legal team for the plaintiffs in the United States Supreme Court case Gill v. Whitford which the Court decided in June.

As we well know, partisan and racial gerrymandering is a huge problem in this country, and the League is fighting to make sure the voters elect politicians who truly represent their interests, rather than elected officials picking their constituents. California and Pennsylvania are seen as models in the reformation effort.

At the Immigration Caucus, we learned that some of the men and women who risk their lives and give up time with their loved ones to keep our country safe are susceptible to some terrible immigration policies. There is a current program in place that promises an expedited path to citizenship for undocumented persons who volunteer to serve in the armed forces. Unfortunately, if a veteran commits even a minor crime, he/she will be deported. The number of veterans that have been deported is unknown but estimated to be in the thousands. The hope is that once Americans know that this is happening, legislation will be passed by Congress to rectify this abomination. It was also disturbing to learn that ICE is offering money to sheriffs in order to balance their jail’s budget.

The League has seen a great uptick in membership since the last election. The convention was extremely well attended with 867+ delegates from 49 State Leagues plus the District of Columbia. The League is active in all 50 states and the District of Columbia with more than 762 chapters across the country. “We all want to see a League of Women Voters that’s suited to meet 21st-century demands, that works hard to court a new generation of leaders and activists, that looks like the people and communities for whom we so fervently advocate,” said Chris Carson, LWVUS president. League Trainings in August

Election season is almost upon us and our Voters Service Team is preparing for Candidate Forums and Pros & Cons sessions. We proudly sponsor Candidate Forums for all city, town, and school board candidates in our coverage area along with state representatives, senate, and sheriff candidates. We also schedule sessions known as Pros & Cons where we literally explain each ballot issue that voters in our four cities will find on their ballots.

In order for us to sponsor these election season events, we need additional volunteers to be trained to assist the Voters Service Team. This is a great opportunity for both long-term League members and our new members to get involved in short-term projects. It’s also a great way to be introduced to the work of the League.

Wendy Hendry and Eleanor Yick will be conducting the training sessions on August 28 and 29. People who are interested in participating should be comfortable speaking in front of a large audience, able to keep a forum or session on track following League protocols, and have transportation to the location. Please R.S.V.P. to Wendy (wenhendry@comcast.net) or Eleanor (egyick@icloud.com) for additional details and training location.

National Popular Vote Intestate Compact (NPVIC)

The National Popular Vote Interstate Compact is a bi-partisan agreement among a group of U.S. states and the District of Columbia to award all their respective electoral votes to whichever presidential candidate wins the overall popular vote in all the 50 states and the District of Columbia. The compact is designed to ensure that the candidate who wins the most popular votes is elected president, and it will come into effect only when it will guarantee that outcome. As of June 2018, it has been adopted by twelve states (including California in 2012) and the District of Columbia. Together, they have 172 electoral votes of the 270 needed out of the total 538 electoral votes. Until all the compact’s conditions are met, all states will continue to award electoral votes in their current manner. Today, all but two states (Maine and Nebraska) award all their electoral votes to the candidate with the most votes statewide. The compact would guarantee that:

- every vote in every state would matter;
- voters are equal across the county; millions of ignored voters are enfranchised;
- candidates run true national campaigns, campaigning in all states, responding to a greater range of voters and promoting agendas that unite the greatest number of voters;
- the Electoral System as envisioned in our Constitution remains intact and states retain control over elections.

Today, national elections are determined by a handful of battleground or swing states (e.g., not reliably Republican or Democrat). Eleven battleground states, representing 95 million Americans or 1/3 of the population, determined the outcome of the 2016 Presidential election. Santa Clara County Juvenile Justice

Part I - The Juvenile Justice Committee will be putting short articles in the next five Voters across the county leading up to a forum in 2019.

In late 2017, a spate of local media stories focused on an increase in juvenile crime in San Jose. Some of these stories reported that youth were being brought to Juvenile Hall only to be released the next day, implying that more young people should be detained if we want the community to be safe. This one-year uptick in crime appeared after a 68% decrease in felony arrests between 2008 and 2016 (from 3,615 to 1,151.) Some would say, the reason we have had this decrease is because young people do better when supported in the community.

This issue — to put youth in detention or not — is one of many important issues to consider when thinking about juvenile justice. Others include the disproportionate representation of Latino and Black youth in detention, the impact of detention on future crime, adolescent brain development, the school to prison pipeline and youth engaged in both the child welfare and justice systems. Because of this, a countywide LWV Juvenile Justice Committee has been formed with the goal of understanding the local juvenile justice system, educating the larger community about juvenile justice issues and supporting the implementation of strategies that have been shown to decrease system engagement. Over the next year, committee members will be writing articles covering a wide variety of juvenile justice topics leading up to a county-wide forum in 2019.

We want more members! If you are interested in joining this committee, please contact Ellyn Corey at ECorey@pacbell.net.
