

David J. Meyer, Candidate for Cemetery Commission

Over the course of my thirty-three years living here in Marblehead, I have personally officiated at dozens of funerals at Waterside Cemetery – caring for Jewish, Christian, non-denominational and unaffiliated families in laying their loved ones to rest. Serving as a Rabbi, first at a large, historic synagogue in San Francisco, and then for these past thirty-three years here at Temple Emanu-El, I have been in a leadership position in terms of the maintenance, development, beautification and preservation of the community's sacred burial grounds. The office of Cemetery Commissioner is truly an excellent fit for my years of experience from both administrative and pastoral perspectives. I am running for Cemetery Commission because I want to step up and give back to the Town where our children were raised, and where my wife and I will continue to call home. I hope to put my years of experience towards beneficial and helpful utility for preserving our past, providing for current needs, and securing the future for our Marblehead families when it comes to honoring the memory of our departed, dear ones.
