

THE SHIFTING NARRATIVE: FROM VICTIM-CENTERED TO PERPETRATOR PROTECTED

NOVEMBER 19 | 7 – 8 P.M. VIA ZOOM

Our guest speaker, Cyndi Vasquez-Barrios, will focus on the recent changes to Title IX protections, especially for women, and the impact on victims and the colleges that protect them. How can we still be compliant with Title IX's shift in focus, but still protect victims in the adjudication process.

Ms. Vasquez-Barrios is a higher education professional of 30 years. Currently the Dean of Students at Joliet Junior College overseeing the Office of Student Rights & Responsibilities, the Student Mental Health and Wellness Program, Student Leadership and Activities, and the College's Student newspaper and literary magazine.

Please let us know you plan to attend by registering at this link.
All those registered will receive the Zoom link on Tuesday, November 17.

An AAUW branch business meeting follows the program at about 8 p.m.
Co-Hosted by DG Area Branch of AAUW and LWV of DG, Woodridge, Lisle.
