TEEN “YOUTH ENGAGEMENT & GET OUT THE VOTE” VIDEO CONTEST

On Tuesday, August 25, the League of Women of Huntington recognized several Town of Huntington youth in a small ceremony in East Northport. President Lizbeth Thalheimer recognized five young women for their contributions to our League's Teen Video Competition which challenged our youth to create short videos on Civic Engagement and Getting Out the Vote.

Scarlett McCann, Kyra Perles (both of Northport High School) and Katherine Cleary (St. Anthony's High School) were recognized for creating the pilot video. The video is displayed on our League's website and has been circulated by the LWVNY as a model for youth engagement. Rithika Narayan and Juliana Weber (both of Elwood High School) won the competition for their video on Civic Engagement.

Each young woman received a certificate of appreciation, letter of recognition and a cash prize.

Under the constraints of Covid-19, the contributions these young women have made proved a significant contribution in our League's outreach to youth. In appreciation, letters were sent to the young women's high school principals making them aware of the awards and recommending the students for community credit.

At the event, we initiated a 'LWV-Huntington Youth Committee Autograph Book' in which we cited the event and asked each girl to sign. It going forward, we intend to collect signatures in this autograph book of all youth involved in LWV-Huntington's projects and over the years have a collection of signatures of these notable youths, who we fully expect to see in future leadership roles.

President's Message

VOTE 2020

Have you heard? There's an election coming! I am so excited, I can't wait to vote. Even though I've been voting for more years than I am willing to admit, it never gets old. I have always seen voting as a right and as a duty. As I got older it's become even more important to me. I have a powerful voice and I express it in the voting booth.

When I was 18 years old my mother brought home a voter registration form from the post office. I have been voting ever since. My parents instilled in me the importance of voting. They tried to instill all their views. Even though that did not work, it didn't matter. Nothing was more important than voting.

Somehow I ended up on the opposite end of the political spectrum from my entire family - and I mean everyone. My parents, brother, cousins, aunts and all my uncles; everyone was on a different page from me. For years every cousins' e-mail began with 'sorry Lizbeth'. Through all the years of disagreeing, we were never disagreeable. We argued plenty, but at the end of the day, we walked away respecting each other's opinions.

I like knowing that I have instilled the same values in my children. From the time they were born, I brought them into the voting booth with me. Many years we stood in the booth while they fought over who would pull the lever. Needless to say, my vote was sometimes broadcast to the entire room. I hope that they still remember those days and I know they will never consider not voting. I hope they never miss an election, but more importantly I hope they never disrespect anyone's opinion. I don't like seeing the divisiveness in our society today. I hope that we all get out and vote and I hope that we will all respect everyone else's opinions and right to vote.

Lizbeth Thalheimer
President

VOTER SERVICES

Keep on keeping on in the year of Covid-19

Voter Services had to get creative because in-person voter registration drives at local high schools and colleges has not been possible due to Covid-19. We produced several flyers on various topics, the census, how and where to register to vote, and how to apply for and complete an absentee ballot application. We printed thousands of copies in English and Spanish and through our members delivered them to local civic groups, food pantries, libraries and churches throughout Huntington and beyond. We also sent out digital copies to many other organizations. We have 50 lawn signs ready to be posted now. Please call Deb Cosher if you'd like a lawn sign; 631.220.8746.

Community outreach has been a big priority in getting out the vote. We have recently gone to outdoor concert events sponsored by the Town of Babylon to explain this year's voting options to seniors. Many people had questions about what their voting options are this year. We helped people complete requests for absentee ballots and provided them with the list of early voting sites in Suffolk County (see page 5 and 6 below).

To get the word out to a larger audience we created an Instagram presence. Two of our members have created a great IG account @lwvhuntingtonny.org. It has grown quickly and enhanced our FaceBook reach with its tremendous content regarding the importance of voting to maintain our democracy and support of important social issues like social justice and healthcare. Please check out our social media, like and share it.

We are also reaching out on Connoisseur Radio. They are airing our "Get Out The Vote" Public Service Announcement's on radio stations across Long Island from Brooklyn to Montauk, in prime time. Our LWVH President Lizbeth Thalheimer was invited to one of their radio shows to discuss NYS voting options. She was fantastic explaining in depth the absentee ballot application process, early voting dates and locations and most important, the importance of the vote to sustain our democracy.

Another aspect of getting out the vote is introducing the public to the candidates that will represent them in the New York State legislature. This year we plan to hold 3 Meet the Candidates forums to be recorded on zoom. The two on October 14th will be co-sponsored with Five Towns College for the candidates running for New York legislative seats; first NYS Senate District 5, Jim Gaughran and Edward Smyth and Senate District 2, Michael Siderakis and Mario Mattera. The second taping on October 14 will be for NYS Assembly seats; NYS Assembly District 10, Steve Stern and Jamie Silvestri as well as Assembly District 12; Keith Brown and Michael Marcantonio. The third Meet the Candidates event on October 20th will focus exclusively on children's issues. This event will be cosponsored with Five Towns College and the American Academy of Pediatrics. The candidates are running for NYS Senate District 5, James Gaughran and Edmund Smyth.

All these events will be recorded through Zoom and will be posted on the LWV of Huntington's YouTube Page and the platforms of our co-sponsors. Check our webpage; www.LWVHuntingtonNY.org for further information.

We have been anticipating this election season for years and now it is upon us. We are reaching out to the public in many ways. Please make a plan to vote and bring others along with you. Vote by mail or in person but VOTE!

YOUTH SERVICES

Our Youth Committee has continued to reach out and connect to our local high schools to encourage them to register their eligible students to vote and encourage them to actually go vote. Of course, Covid has been cramping our in-person efforts, but that has not stopped us from finding new ways to get the message out!

Our volunteers have contacted over 14 local high schools and provided them with resources to help get their students registered prior to the October 9th deadline. Our offerings include a power point-step by step explanation of how, where and when to register both online and by mail. We cover how to apply for an absentee ballot online and by mail as well as early voting information. And, we offer virtual training by our volunteers if they are interested. Included in our package to High Schools are Digital Sign Messaging if they have an electronic billboard and several digital flyers with relevant voting information. Many thanks to Deb Cosher for getting this customized for our region!

Our youth oriented social media team have been busy creating and posting voting information on both Instagram and FaceBook and have made sure to boost this messaging to our youth demographic in a 25 mile radius. (You can read more about our social media activities in the Social Media Team article on page 7).

A special thanks to our new and veteran Youth Committee Members who have jumped right in and helped get the word out: Noel Cole for her expert Power Point assistance, Lorraine MK for adopting 2 High Schools. Leslie Anesta for helping to get the word out to several Nassau County High Schools, Halle Brenner Perles for initiating an additional HS in Nassau County, Fran Hyde, (one of our mentors!) for convincing Walt Whitman High School to display our Digital "Get Out The Vote" sign on their billboard, Nancy Holliday for her persistence in contacting some hard to reach high schools. Susan Pellegrino for getting our messaging into Central Islip, Barbara Raisch who coordinated a beautiful award ceremony for our teens honoring them for creating the pilot video to encourage their peers to register and vote. (see page 1).

Engaging our youth in civic awareness is so important and is so very gratifying when we are able to connect with them. Our Youth Committee is always looking for volunteers to help, plan and implement outreach to our teens. Please join us!! Contact Mary or Deb; mlsperri@optonline.net or dcosher@optonline.net

100th ANNIVERSARY EVENT

Our League was invited by Town of Huntington Councilwoman Joan Cergol to join a zoom event to celebrate the 100th anniversary of women's suffrage, "1929-2020: A Centennial of Women's Suffrage."

One of our Vice Presidents, Deb Cosher, participated along with authors Antonia Petrash and Natalie Naylor. Antonia and Natalie discussed two Huntington area suffragists, Rosalie Gardiner Jones and Ida Bunce Sammis. Deb discussed the role of the League of Women Voters over the past 100 years and the work we continue to do today. The program may be viewed on the Town of Huntington's website in the media section and was on the local government access channel for a week on or about National Voter Registration Day. Below is the address to the event on the Town's website:

LWV of Huntington - Social Media Team

WHAT'S YOUR PLAN?

The social media team recently launched it's #whatsYOURplan campaign. The campaign runs weekly on Wednesdays and consists of a video of a voter sharing their voting plan as well as a static post that highlights their voting plan for the upcoming elections.

We continue to leverage our newest teen member, Dana Laissle, who puts together some thoughtful and informative posts directed at her age group. Dana has also contributed as a participant in the #whatsYOURplan campaign, and we are grateful for her positive attitude and always willing to step in and help.

Our followers are steadily increasing, and we'd like to have more organic growth. We have made a strategic play to invest a bit more in boosting our daily ads and reach a larger local audience and we are seeing more engagement with the boosts.

Our posts continue to be a combination of original content and shared content with credit to the originator. Our focus for the next coming weeks will be Registering to Vote, Educating folks on deadlines, GOTV, Apply for absentee ballot, Early Voting and information and encouraging everyone, especially Gen Z to vote. And Sundays are still dedicated to a Sunday Funday, Question of the Day. See a sampling of our posts throughout this Voter.
