

OBSERVER REPORT

RECREATION AND PARKS - Wednesday, Sept. 7, 2022 7:30 pm

Community Center Conference Room

LWVM Observer - Steven Levy

Members present: Derek Norcross, Linda Rice-Collins, Karin Ernst, Matthew Martin, Ferrante, Ballard

- On a site near Green Street, a number of people are congregating informally with bikes. This is an annoyance to the neighborhood. Communications will be improved in the hopes of finding a solution.
- The memorandum of Understanding Bike Mor/Nemba has some insurance issues.
- A million dollars was donated to improve Reynolds Playground. It has not been spent. Some of it could be used for planning.
- This year's weather was better than 2021. Receipts and expenses were both higher.
- A field at the new Brown School was landscaped improperly. The landscaper will pay for part of the cost. The rest will come from the construction contingency fund. R&P is recommending sod not seed because it would be ready sooner.
- Wedding and event requests were reviewed and approved after discussion.
- The next meeting will be on Sept. 20.
