MAKING DEMOCRACY WORK IN SC: HOUSE REDISTRICTING PUBLIC HEARINGS

A House Redistricting website is now active at:

<https://redistricting.schouse.gov>

Note that virtual MS Teams participation will be available only during the final October 4 meeting. This virtual option is presumably open to persons from throughout the state. No information has been posted about public testimony sign-up procedures. It is likely that time allotted for individual testimony will be limited, especially during the short time available for virtual testimony, so those planning to participate should plan accordingly.

There is usually provision for written testimony as well as oral. Citizens can write or call their own representatives with input on SC House districts and Congressional districts. We do not advise use of email; many legislators do not check their webmail or official public email accounts.
