- Only citizens are eligible to vote, so the first question must be marked “Yes” to continue. Typically, the second question will be answered “Yes”; exception may be voters that are 17 but will not be 18 by Election Day.
- In Iowa voters can register at 17. They may only vote in the Election if they are 18 by Election Day. Voters can vote in the Primary Election or participate in the caucus at 17 if they will be 18 by Election Day.
- Many previously incarcerated persons can now vote if they have completed their sentence, including any parole or probation time (are “off papers”). Governor Reynolds signed an Executive Order restoring the voting rights of felons who have completed their sentence. The website <https://RestoreYourVote.iowa.gov> will walk people through a few questions to determine if they can now vote.
