Candidates may have updated, edited, or added to their information on Vote411.org since the September 3rd deadline.

Note: If someone running for office in your area did not respond, consider contacting them and indicating concern about their missing information. Voters deserve to hear from those seeking election. Candidates can still complete their information until the election, and it will appear on Vote411.org.

Democratic – Governor
JOSH SHAPIRO
Montgomery County

Education: University of Rochester, BA; Georgetown University Law Center, JD Occupation: Governor of Pennsylvania
Qualifications:

Governor of Pennsylvania, who is fighting every day to Get Stuff Done and protect real freedom in our Commonwealth.

Answer to question 1: I've met with Pennsylvanians on our farms, in our cities, and everywhere in between, and I've found that most people want the same key things: good schools, safe communities, good-paying jobs, and their freedoms protected. As Governor, I've worked hard to get stuff done on these pressing issues — cutting taxes ten times, securing over $41 billion in private-sector investment, creating over 25,000 good-paying jobs, delivering historic public education funding, and improving public safety by supporting law enforcement and violence prevention programs — but there's more work to do, and I'm going to keep fighting to ensure all Pennsylvanians have the freedom to chart their own course and the opportunity to succeed here in our Commonwealth.

Answer to question 2: I believe in our obligation to ensure our kids have access to a thorough and efficient public education. We've brought Democrats and Republicans together to invest a record amount in public education and created a new formula that drives that money out to the schools that need it most. With these investments, schools have served over 224 million free breakfasts, 3,000 more students are enrolled in career and technical education courses, the number of new teacher certifications is increasing, and regular attendance and graduation rates are up. I'm committed to continuing to build on that progress and delivering for all Pennsylvanians.

Answer to question 3: I have been clear that our country needs comprehensive immigration reform in order to have a secure border, a more clear, efficient, orderly immigration process, a path to citizenship for people who have been living here lawfully, and to protect public safety. That is far from what we are seeing from Donald Trump — who has violated constitutional rights and brought chaos to communities across this country. When the Trump Administration secretly purchased warehouses in Pennsylvania to convert them into ICE detention centers, I stood with local leaders and residents to successfully block that acquisition. I will continue to protect public safety in our Commonwealth while standing up to reckless federal policies that harm our communities.

Answer to question 4: Our elections are free, fair, safe, and secure — and I'm continuing to protect the security of our elections and our democracy in the face of threats from Donald Trump and his allies. I'm proud to have appointed Al Schmidt as Secretary of State — and since taking office, we've kept our elections secure and strengthened voting rights by implementing automatic voter registration, redesigning mail-in ballots to reduce errors and support county election workers, launching an easy-to-use online ballot request tool, and providing voter resources in multiple languages. I have always stood up for our democracy — and I am going to continue to protect our elections and the right to vote.

Democratic — Lt. Governor
AUSTIN DAVIS
Allegheny County

Education: Bachelor's Degree in Political Science from the University of Pittsburgh
Occupation: Lieutenant Governor of Pennsylvania

Qualifications: From serving as a State Representative to now as the current Lieutenant Governor, Austin Davis is delivering real results for all Pennsylvanians and will continue working to move our Commonwealth forward.

Answer to question 1: We're focused every day on building a good education for our kids, safer communities, economic opportunity, and protecting Pennsylvanians' rights and freedoms. I'm proud of the work the Governor and I have done to deliver real results for all Pennsylvanians on these critical issues — creating thousands of good-paying jobs, attracting over $40 billion in private-sector investment, cutting taxes seven times, investing our schools, and supporting both community-based violence intervention programs and state and local law enforcement. I'm committed to fighting for all Pennsylvanians — and we are going to keep working to create real opportunity for our families to get ahead and be able to live the American dream right here in our Commonwealth.

Answer to question 2: Since taking office, we have increased K-12 funding by nearly 30 percent and implemented an adequacy formula to drive investments to schools in the most need. Governor Shapiro and I are making sure Pennsylvania students are set up to succeed everyday with safe, healthy learning environments — providing universal free school breakfast, hiring mental health counselors, and investing in school safety. We are building upon our cyber charter school reforms to ensure students have regular, engaged contact with teachers online — saving schools districts millions in the process. I know that when we invest in education, we invest in the future of our children, which is why we will keep building on these investments to support our students.

Answer to question 3: Keeping our communities safe is our number one priority — but the federal government and their recklessness across the country has manufactured fear and chaos, making that work harder. Here in Pennsylvania, Governor Shapiro and I have worked to invest in law enforcement and violence prevention programs to build trust and build safer communities — and while we have been clear that we need a secure border and comprehensive immigration reform, we do not need the Trump Administration's chaos in our Commonwealth. We will continue to stand up to it while we work to keep Pennsylvanians safe and move our Commonwealth forward.

Answer to question 4: Pennsylvania's elections are free, fair, safe, and secure – and together with Governor Shapiro, we have defended the integrity of our elections and Pennsylvanians' right to vote so that all eligible voters can exercise that fundamental right. Since taking office, we have taken steps to strengthen voting rights and decrease voter errors here in the Commonwealth by implementing automatic voter registration, re-designing mail-in ballots, and working closely with local elections officials to support their work. While the federal government attacks the sanctity of our elections, Governor Shapiro and I will continue to stand up and protect our democracy and Pennsylvanians' freedom to make their voices heard and ensure their votes are counted.

Republican – Governor
STACY GARRITY
Bradford County

Education: Bachelor's Degree in Finance, Bloomsburg University

Occupation: Pennsylvania State Treasurer

Qualifications: 30

year U.S. Army Reserve Veteran with three Combat Deployments (Col., Ret.) | Former VP at Global Tungsten & Powders

Answer to question 1: Pennsylvania families are being squeezed by higher energy bills, failing schools, rising crime, and a government that spends too much while delivering too little. My goals are simple: make life affordable again, give every family real school choice, keep our communities safe, and restore fiscal responsibility in Harrisburg. That means unleashing Pennsylvania energy to lower utility bills, empowering parents' on matters of their children's education, standing with law enforcement, and cutting wasteful spending so the next generation inherits opportunity – not debt. As Treasurer, I returned more than $1 billion to Pennsylvanians. As Governor, I'll bring that same results-driven leadership to Harrisburg.

Answer to question 2: Every Pennsylvania child deserves access to a great education – no matter their ZIP code. That means giving families the freedom to choose the school that best meets their child's needs, whether that is a public, charter, cyber, or private school. Strong public schools are essential because they are the backbone of our communities and a gateway to opportunity for Pennsylvania children, but my focus will always be on students and results – not on protecting failing systems. As Governor, I will fight to ensure that parents – not Harrisburg bureaucrats – choose the school that is best for their children, that education dollars follow students instead of systems, and that every school is held accountable for its results.

Answer to question 3: Immigration enforcement is primarily a federal responsibility, but Pennsylvania has an obligation to protect its communities and uphold the rule of law. As Governor, I will ensure state agencies fully cooperate with federal authorities when it comes to violent criminals, drug trafficking, and human trafficking. Pennsylvania should never be a sanctuary for those who break our laws. The state's role is to keep communities safe, prevent taxpayer resources from being misused, and partner with federal officials where public safety is at stake.

Answer to question 4: Pennsylvanians deserve elections that are easy to participate in and impossible to doubt. I support strong voter ID requirements, accurate voter rolls, chain-of-custody protections for ballots, timely counting, and consistent administrative standards across all 67 counties. We should expand access for eligible voters through clear rules, early preparation, and well-trained local election officials, while also cracking down on fraud, noncitizen voting, and administrative loopholes. One illegal vote is one too many. My goal is simple: every legal vote counted, every illegal vote stopped, and every voter confident the system is fair.

Republican – Lt. Governor
JASON RICHEY
Allegheny County

Education: Allegheny College, BA (Economics/Political Science Double Major); The Ohio State University Moritz College of Law, JD.

Occupation: Attorney

Qualifications: Growing up in Aliquippa, I saw the impact of economic decline & learned the value of hard work. I became a 3-time NCAA Academic All-American at Allegheny College. I worked in a steel mill through law school. Over a 30-year legal career, I've led high-stakes cases & teams across major industries.

Answer to question 1: The most pressing issue facing Pennsylvanians is affordability.

Families are struggling with rising energy costs, high taxes, and housing costs. Pennsylvania sits atop the Marcellus Shale, one of the largest natural gas reserves in the world, yet it has not been fully leveraged to benefit our citizens. I will expand responsible natural gas development, streamline permitting related to drilling and infrastructure, and position Pennsylvania as a world leading energy producer. This growth will lower energy costs and generate new revenue to reduce taxes, especially property taxes to lower housing costs. By connecting energy policy to tax relief, we can create jobs and make Pennsylvania more affordable.

Answer to question 2: A child's future should not be determined by their address. The Commonwealth Court's order is an opportunity to create a fair, student-centered funding system. I support increasing public school funding through a weighted formula that prioritizes low-income students, English learners, and special education needs. I also support expanding school choice through charter and cyber options, and by pursuing federal school choice opportunities alongside a Pennsylvania Scholarship Program that empowers parents with direct access to funding. Dollars should follow students, with clear accountability for results. No system should receive automatic funding without performance. Parents, not bureaucracies, should drive educational decisions.

Answer to question 3: The federal government sets immigration policy, but the state has a clear responsibility to protect public safety and enforce the law. Pennsylvania should not be a sanctuary for those who commit crimes or undermine public safety. State and local law enforcement should fully cooperate with federal authorities in identifying, detaining, and removing individuals who are in the country illegally and have committed violent crimes or other serious offenses. At the same time, we should ensure resources are focused on securing communities, supporting victims, and maintaining order. A safe immigration system requires clear rules, consistent enforcement, and no tolerance for criminal activity that puts Pennsylvania families at risk.

Answer to question 4: Pennsylvanians deserve elections they can trust completely. I will help ensure both accessibility and security by supporting voter ID requirements, regular maintenance of voter rolls, and strict chain-of-custody standards for ballots. We should also establish uniform election administration rules across all 67 counties so every voter is treated equally. Every eligible voter must have a clear, accessible path to cast a ballot, including early voting, while every safeguard must ensure only legal votes are counted and results are accurate and timely. The standard is simple: it should be easy to vote and hard to cheat.

Libertarian – Governor
KEN KRAWCHUK
Montgomery County

Education: BS

the Abington Citizens
Police Academy
Occupation:

Qualifications:

Student of the Pennsylvania Constitution;
President of Amendment 16 Ltd., a 35-year-old Information Technology consulting

Answer to question 1: Aside from our failing schools, the most pressing issue facing Pennsylvania is taxation. The cost of government has been rising at more than 3 times the rate of inflation for over 50 years, but when I'm elected, that trend will end. I promise to veto all tax increases, and use the line item veto to eliminate all unconstitutional, special interest, and pork barrel spending. But THE worst tax is the property tax. Seniors risk being foreclosed out of their homes. First-time buyers struggle to afford a home at all. And every homeowner faces an eternal mortgage they can never pay off. Property tax must be eliminated, starting with the oppressive, ever-rising school tax.
Details at KenK4Pa.com/education

Answer to question 2: The PA Constitution mandates "thorough and efficient" schools, but they're neither. Testing shows that most kids can't read or do math at grade level, and the average cost per child is $24,000 compared to only $11,000 for a typical private school. The solution? Privatize our schools. Government funding totals about $11,500 per child, but instead of sending it to the school districts, just send it directly to each child as a voucher. Parents then have full school choice and can send their children to whatever school they prefer or homeschool them. As the school districts are being phased out, their assets can be sold to private schools.
School property taxes would no longer be needed, and can simply vanish! Details at KenK4Pa.com/education

Answer to question 3: The states have absolutely no role regarding immigration policy. The governor has no authority to enforce any federal law, and therefore cannot legally attempt to do so. Conversely, if the governor should attempt to interfere with the enforcement of any federal law, they would be subject to arrest. The Supremacy Clause of the federal constitution is quite clear: When it comes to any federal law, the governor can neither usurp nor hinder the federal government's authority. Only a lawbreaker would attempt either one.

Answer to question 4: Elections can be made much more secure in many ways: 1)
Most importantly, ID should be required for citizens to vote. 2) Mail-in ballots must be abolished; not only because they're the easiest way to scam an election, they also violate our state constitution's strict rules for absentee ballots. 3) Out-of-state political contributions put a thumb on the scales of Pennsylvania elections and should be banned. 4) Term limits are a no-brainer, and should apply to ALL elected offices. 5) Gerrymandering can be stopped via Precinct-Preserving Splitline Districting. 6) Empower voters to vote both FOR candidates they like and AGAINST candidates they don't like with Approve/Approve/Disapprove Voting. 7)

Libertarian – Lt. Governor
JOHN THOMAS
Armstrong County

Education: BA in Political Science /
Pre-Law; BS in Education
Occupation: Educator
Qualifications: I am not qualified to run

your life. But I am the only Lt. Gov. candidate in the race who recognizes that about himself.

Answer to question 1: Pennsylvania is shedding young people. People are moving to states where they see more opportunities and better affordability. By making Pennsylvania the state with the best educational system in the country (by cutting government, rather than growing it) and cutting regulations that stifle innovation and job growth, we can keep Pennsylvanians in the state. Our education plan includes eliminating school-related property taxes that make housing unaffordable to families. It encourages families to make decisions that build their capital, allowing young people to enter adulthood with educational and monetary capital that will make them more competitive in our changing economy. This will allow families to stay and grow here in PA.

Answer to question 2: We would close all government schools. We know that monopolies create less innovation and are less efficient than competitive markets.
Yet we impose a near-monopolistic system on something as vital to our community as education. Rather than shuffling money through bureaucrats and having them decide which schools are worth funding, we would send the funding directly to parents. This will introduce competition and innovation into the educational landscape in Pennsylvania and significantly reduce spending, allowing us to eliminate educational property taxes entirely.
Each family would receive $11,500 per student for education. This is far less than the $24,000 we spend now, but about the average cost of non-elite private education in PA.

Answer to question 3: Immigration is a federal issue. However, there are some things we can do to encourage the right type of immigration to Pennsylvania.
We could consider the pull factors that national security strategy. Diverse world view honed from years of experience living and working abroad paired with fluency in seven foreign languages.

Answer to question 1: Since PA15 is such a large district (18 counties), the severity of the problems tend to fluctuate in priority depending upon the county. However, if I could pinpoint one general issue which affects every county, it would have to be affordability. The simplest way to address this general issue would be to reclaim the responsibility of Congress to perform budgetary functions such as ensuring appropriated funds are distributed to states, and to reclaim tariff authority from the executive branch. Once those tools are returned to their rightful place, then work can begin on the more complex aspects of affordability.

Answer to question 2: Congress (legislative) is a co-equal branch of the executive and judicial branches. We must return this balance to our system and provide apolitical oversight to the other branches of our government. Partisanship has no role in this obligation.

Answer to question 3: Congress must understand that their decisions impact the way other nations view our country and act in the best interests of our nation which must take into account our foreign partner relationships. We must engage with the executive branch to ensure that any acts of hostility toward other nations, be they verbal or physical, are well thought out and in the best interests of our nation and our relationships with our allies.

Answer to question 4: I can state unequivocally that our healthcare system is deeply flawed. Healthcare should be patient-centric, not profit-centric. We do an abysmal job of providing healthcare, especially preventative care, at affordable prices. Americans pay far more for healthcare than any other developed country yet we receive some of the worst care. Here in PA15, we have serious problems with access to healthcare and pharmacies. We need to reinvent our entire healthcare system, but until that time we need to find legislative means to make healthcare more affordable and available to all our citizens, but especially those in our rural communities because it is truly a life or death situation.

GLENN GT THOMPSON
Centre County

Education: B.S. the Pennsylvania State University, M.A. Temple University

Occupation: Member of Congress, U.S. House of Representatives

Qualifications: Former Therapist and Licensed Nursing Home Administrator; Former Bald Eagle School Board Member; Former Centre County GOP Chairman; Member of Congress PA-5 (2009-2019); Member of Congress PA-15 (2020-Current).

Answer to question 1: I've had great legislative successes this year with the Whole Milk for Healthy Kids and Secure Rural Schools bills being signed into law. There is still work to be done, like prioritizing a long-term Farm Bill, which will provide stability and an affordable food supply for consumers. Throughout my time in Congress, I have worked in a bipartisan manner to achieve common ground and consensus. I credit my career in healthcare and volunteer experiences -- whether through Scouting, as an EMT and firefighter, or on the school board -- for providing me the ability to work with people from all walks of life. I believe the constituents expect this from their representatives. It is an honor to serve them, and I am humbled by their continued support.

Answer to question 2: There is a reason that Congress was established in Article I of the Constitution, with the creation of the People's House. Oversight is of great importance. Checks and balances allow for refinement of executive branch actions. As Chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, each of our subcommittees have an oversight role to ensure that USDA is doing right by the people it's supposed to be serving. Early last year, I successfully made the case to reduce and ultimately remove tariffs on Canadian potash imports, a critical input for American Agriculture. This is just one small example of the oversight that occurs on a daily basis. It's not always loud and flashy, but we are making an impact and creating positive outcomes.

Answer to question 3: The U.S. plays a critical role in shaping international policy together with countries that share our values. There are a number of diplomatic tools at our disposal that can discourage bad actors. As the father of a retired Purple Heart Wounded Warrior, I know the sacrifices young men and women make serving our country. We owe them a debt of gratitude and as a Member of Congress, I do not take my duty lightly when it comes to potentially putting our troops in harm's way. I believe we have the best-funded, highly trained, and lethal fighting force on the planet. That strength helps to keep peace and combined with diplomacy, the U.S. and our allies can maintain stability and collaboratively work toward a prosperous future.

Answer to question 4: Prior to being elected to Congress, I spent nearly 30 years working in nonprofit healthcare, focused on helping individuals with life-changing diseases and disabilities. During that time, I also served as national president of my professional association, advocating for policy changes that would reduce red tape and put the needs of the patients first. One area of care that has become increasingly important for our region is telemedicine, which improves health equity by increasing access to care, especially in rural communities. Technology and innovation will help reduce costs, but we will always need strong community hospitals, and we must work to remove the social, economic, and geographic barriers that keep people from accessing care.

REPRESENTATIVES IN THE PA GENERAL ASSEMBLY

Description of office: The General Assembly is the legislative branch of government in Pennsylvania. It is composed of two houses: the Senate is the upper house, and the House of Representatives is the lower house. A majority vote in both houses is necessary to pass a law. The PA House of Representatives consists of 203 members representing one district each, with an equal number of constituents. Representatives must be at least 21 years old, have been a citizen and a resident of the state four years and a resident of their respective districts one year before their election, and shall reside in their respective districts during their terms of service. The House develops budget packages, makes taxation decisions, allocates spending, and passes laws (including redistricting in collaboration with the Senate). The House also has the exclusive authority to impeach public officials. Representatives also serve on various policy committees that may propose legislation.

SARA EGGLE
Clinton County

Education: Bachelors Degree

Occupation: Real Estate Agent

Qualifications: Pro Negotiator: Built my real estate business, as an independent contractor, to a multi-million dollar vol. business, within the 1st (2) years of operating. I will build partnerships and use my negotiating expertise to secure funding & resources, and advance policies that serve the greater good.

Answer to question 1: Economy: I support & will advance policies which: increase livable wages, support small businesses, and reduce the burden at the gas pump. Restructure the way we fund our PA fuel tax (see state budget for additional info) Funding & Resources: I am actively building partnerships needed in Harrisburg to effectively negotiate the resources we need for our 1st responders, downtowns, rural healthcare, schools, & roads/bridges. People Above Politics: I am committed to a nonpartisan approach that prioritizes results over rhetoric. Effective leadership means working across party lines to deliver common sense solutions while remaining accountable to the people—not political parties.

Answer to question 2: I support expanding voter access while maintaining strong election security. This includes open primaries, reducing strict party registration barriers, & protecting mail-in ballot options. At the same time, I support secure voter tracking, that expands access to voting. The goal should be a system that is streamlined, secure, accurate, and more accessible for voters.

Answer to question 3: I will support strengthening the state budget process by advocating for pre-deadline mandates through caucus & committee check-points and district level budget hearings. I will advocate for a “Public Review Timeframe” & “Recorded Negotiation Summaries” to providing more transparency & opportunity for public input. I will advocate for moving major policy changes out of fiscal code to reduce “bundling” policy issues, within budgeting process. One of my priorities is to reduce the PA Fuel Tax by restructuring the way we fund our transportation system(s); to reduce the cost burden at the gas pump.

Answer to question 4: YES. I am advocating for mandated environmental impact studies. Responsible environmental stewardship is long over-due, especially for data centers. Potential “guidrails” do not have to override local zoning laws, if it's designed with careful consideration. State laws should set a minimum standard to help protect our resources; municipalities would still control local zoning & siting. Protect our natural resources & outdoor heritages by creating a 2-layer system - State safeguard with minimum standard(s) and local / municipality level for siting and control. Technology should leave our communities stronger, not depleted. Rural communities should never be asked to sacrifice the very assets which sustain our quality of life.

ENGAGING YOUNG PEOPLE IN OUR DEMOCRACY

BACKGROUND: In 2016, the League of Women Voters of the Lewisburg Area (LWVLA) was the recipient of a generous grant from League members Rebecca and James Mauch for the purpose of identifying and implementing strategies for engaging young people in the civic life of our democracy.

MISSION: The mission of the LWVLA Mauch Millennial Project is to engage young people in the civic life of our democracy in the United States in general, and specifically in the LWVLA's service area of Union County, PA. To that end, the LWVLA Mauch Millennial Project began developing and implementing a series of initiatives beginning in 2016.

MAUCH INITIATIVES: The initiatives include activities at local high schools; the Bucknell-Mauch Fellowship Program, co-sponsored by the Bucknell Political Science Department and the Bucknell Center for Community Engaged Leadership, Learning & Research; a partnership with the Lewisburg Children's Museum that includes a LWVLA-sponsored voting booth and related activities; and various voter education events.
